

Getting the right info on stocks

Having the right information is crucial in any business. Trading the stock markets is no exception. This article sets out sources of quality information. Speak with us for more information.

BSP Capital Research	Frequency	Details
Daily market report	Daily	Emails reporting on global market movement, news and stocks to watch for the day ahead.
Company research	Available on request	Analysis on all stocks listed on local and international exchanges.

BSP Capital research is free to clients. Ask your adviser to put you on the list.

Stock Exchange websites	Details
www.asx.com.au	The Australian Securities Exchange has plenty of information on Australian stocks as well as tutorials and educational information. It's well worth a look.
www.pomsox.com.pg	The POMSoX website has information on local stocks as well as latest prices and announcements.
www.nyse.com	The New York Stock Exchange website has plenty of new and information on American stocks.

Books and courses	Author	Details
Starting Out in Shares the ASX Way	The ASX	This one has been written for beginner investors on how to begin buying and selling shares.
Market Wizards	Schwager, Jack	Interviews with the world's top traders from all walks of life. Fantastic reading and highly recommended!
Bullseye: Top Trader Thinking	Kirk, Matt	A book all about what it takes to be a great trader with interviews of top Australian traders. BSP Capital has a few copies. Contact us for details.
Interactive Trading Course - Home Study	Active Investor	An introduction to the world of trading and investing. Covers basic definitions, technical analysis, fundamental analysis and portfolio design. A five DVD course from Educated Investor.

Books and courses are available from www.educatedinvestor.com.au and www.moneybags.com.au.

Software	Website	Details
eSignal	www.esignal.com	A professional level package for charting and news in global markets. Suitable for the active investor.

If you are looking for anything in particular, BSP can help. Please ask us.

